

Quality Assurance – Summer 2023

In response to the Rochford Report’s recommendation that ‘schools should work collaboratively to share good practice and should seek support from other schools’ and following the success of the quality assurance sessions last year, the FLSE working with special schools in the east are putting on a further series of these during the Summer term 2023.

These quality assurance sessions will focus upon communication, including reading. Please bring with you examples of pupil work for you discuss within this session, along with any subsequent material relating to how you assess, to ensure colleagues are able to carry out effective quality assurance.
